Almond garden nevis Amenities

So you're either thinking about booking a fabulous one of a kind vacation at Almond Garden Nevis or you're already booked and you need more information. We tried to include things here that people have asked us in the past about how the house is laid out, the size of the rooms, etc. We hope you enjoy reading about Almond Garden.

The Great Room which is a combination Family Room/Dining Room is approximately 14' x 34' and offers an abundance of seating options no matter what your mood as well as breathtaking vistas no matter which way you look. As with all the rooms in Almond Garden you will find quarry tile on the floor and a ceiling fan to assist the movement of air, although most of the time the trade winds take care of that task. You will feel like you are outside since this room offers eight doors all with screens that can be opened to let the outside in.

The dining table will easily seat eight and you can listen to your favorite music on the AM/FM/CD audio system that's provided along with a selection of CD's. If you want to know more about Nevis or the Caribbean or just want to catch up on some reading make a choice from the small library of both reference books and novels.

The eat-in kitchen is approximately 14' x 16' and has about 22 lineal feet of green ceramic tile counter space. It includes abundant cupboard space which is stocked with just about anything that you could want in the way of dishes, pots & pans, cutlery, silverware, glasses, etc. You will also find a selection of spices along with a two bowl stainless steel sink, gas range, full size refrigerator/freezer, microwave and blender. And yes the floor is quarry tile and it has a ceiling fan as well. And just in case you don't feel like eating 'formal' the kitchen table easily seats four.

There are two bedrooms. The master bedroom is approximately 12' x 16' and has a king size bed adorned by four king size pillows. The master bedroom has windows on three sides which affords wonderful cross ventilation. There is ample dresser space for both occupants as well as a double wardrobe in the entry way to the bathroom which will most certainly accommodate everything that you bring.

The guest bedroom is approximately the same size as the master bedroom and contains a king size bed along with two single beds. There is ample dresser space here as well along with a wardrobe in the entry-way of the guest bathroom as well.

Both bedrooms have ceiling fans and quarry tile floors. There are two full separate bathrooms, one for each bedroom. They are identical in design and contain an elegant pedestal basin, toilet and what can only be described as a very large two person walk-in shower that affords a view of Mt. Nevis out the window. The bathrooms both have quarry tile floors and the showers are entirely of ceramic tile. They also have small ceiling fans with a dimmer equipped room light beneath.

It should be mentioned also that all rooms have a vaulted ceiling with dark stained and varnished exposed beams which makes these already large rooms seem even bigger. In addition the entire inside wall of the Great room is of the same stone that the outside of the home is made of.

Along the entire front of the house you will find a covered porch which faces the ocean, it's a great place to have that morning cup of tea or coffee or to read a book in the shade. And if shade is not what you came for, then how about taking up a position on the sundeck which has a perimeter bench and three Adirondack chairs and a love seat all with cushions and an end table as well.

And for those who came to feel the sand between their toes it's just 200 yards through the lower gate to your very own spot on Long Haul Bay beach. It's just like you would picture your own tropical island beach, palm trees and not another person in sight.

There is a washing machine on the property in a separate building which you have access to. There is no dryer, but one is not needed since the trade winds take care of the drying quite efficiently. Almond Garden sits four acre expanse of green lawn. The property is entirely fenced in to keep the roaming herds of domestic sheep and goats from devouring all the green foliage. We certainly can't forget to mention the staff that has been assembled to meet your every need. From the overseers to the groundskeepers to the maid everyone provides and caters to your needs and gives you contact to the local community should you have questions about anything. This home provides an exceptional opportunity to have a dream vacation on a tropical island, away from it all while having all the comforts of home. Why not investigate this exceptional island vacation opportunity further and call now to book your next vacation at Almond Garden, Nevis in the West Indies.
